

Website: <https://danafarbercancerbiologytraining.org/>
Program funded by NCI T32CA236754

Part II | Workshop
Thursday January 20 | 9-10:30am

What Your Experience Can Tell You
About the Mentor You Want to Become

Description

Mentoring relationships, both formal and informal, already occur in the lab and other settings. However, when assuming the position of a mentor in a mentoring relationship, what do you consider your role to be? What type of skillset do you need to achieve that role? In this workshop, participants will discuss qualities of good mentorship and skills needed to support it as they reflect on their personal experiences and approaches.

Brad Coleman, PhD, Director, Curriculum Fellows Program
Jelena Patrnogić, PhD, Curriculum Fellow in Cancer Biology

If you have any questions – email Jelena_Patrnogic@hms.harvard.edu